

5th Quarterly Gathering of Gardeners

It's that time again! It's time to come out of our solitary gardens and gather together to share gardening know-how and information, on

Wednesday, April 30th, 2014, at 7pm at the Aromas Grange

Numerous gardeners have been complaining recently about how birds are being particularly pestilential this year. Might it have to do with the drought? We don't have the answer to that, but we do have a few people who are ready to respond to the bird problems with some tried-and-true methods and materials to talk about. There's also a pretty interesting idea to try out which requires two nesting tin cans and some tin snips. Bring 'em if you have 'em, and give it a try. And bring your own ideas and methods to share.

Bring your general (or specific) gardening questions, too, and we'll collectively see if we have solutions for you.

We'll also talk about what's going on in the garden at this time of year. What tasks should we be doing now?

Bring your starts, seeds, handouts, books, etc., for the Share Table.

And don't forget your nesting tin cans and tin snips!
